

Products

Hause Machines is an American machine tool builder specializing in Engineered Solutions for Manufacturing Excellence, located in northwest Ohio. Since 1933 we've been supply solutions to machine builders and production facilities. Today, we supply to over 900 companies worldwide. Our engineers specialize in designing custom yet affordable machining components and machines to produce your products at the rate you need with the quality you demand. Our Services include: Self-Feed Drill Units
Servo Ballscrew Drills Turret style VMC's Programmable drill-tap units Dial Index Machine heads Slide Machines Indexers Trunnion Machines Hydraulic slides Untooled Literature Section contains the brochures and flyers on all of our various products for machine builders, end users, and sample applications. If you want peace of mind that your machine tools are running smoother and faster than your competition, please contact us, and our engineering group will design and build a system to meet your production needs.